Pennsylvania Honey Queen Program

The Pennsylvania Honey Queen is the main promoter and educator of the beekeeping and honey industries in Pennsylvania. She is a representative of the Pennsylvania State Beekeepers Association and travels throughout the state for one year educating the public on the importance of honey bees.

Education is the main goal of the Honey Queen program and the Honey Queen provides and educational, engaging 30 minute school presentation, which can be adjusted to all grade levels. During this presentation, the Honey Queen covers the life cycle of honey bees and their many jobs, pollination, products of the hive, and the role of beekeepers. This presentation can be easily modified to present to civic organizations, homemakers groups, clubs, and after school programs, to name a few. In addition, the Honey Queen can provide an educational booth for a fair, farmers market, or even a store promotion.

To invite the Pennsylvania Honey Queen to your event, please see the form below. All presentations are free of charge.

More information on the Pennsylvania Honey Queen Program is available at www.pastatebeekeepers.org/queen.htm or on Facebook at “Pennsylvania Honey Queen Program” <https://www.facebook.com/PennsylvaniaHoneyQueenProgram/>.
