

Pennsylvania State Beekeepers Constitution and By-Laws

CONSTITUTION

- ARTICLE I This Association shall be known as The Pennsylvania State Beekeepers Association.
- ARTICLE II The objects of this Association shall be:
1. Promotion of the scientific study of bees and honey production.
 2. Dissemination of information on modern practical apiary management.
 3. Review of all proposed legislation that may effect apiculture or honey production in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and provide active support or opposition as the situation may demand.
 4. To promote closer fellowship between beekeepers and between the County Beekeeping Associations.
 5. To foster in the minds of the public a true appreciation of the economic and ecological importance of the honeybee.
- ARTICLE III This organization shall be governed by the Executive Committee and the officers as chosen, at such time, and in such manner, and for such periods, as the By-Laws shall ordain.
- ARTICLE IV The membership shall consist of persons who comply with conditions of membership set forth in the By-Laws.
- ARTICLE V Two annual meetings of the Association will be held – one a summer picnic and the other a meeting for the election of officers and conduct of general business preferable in the fall or winter at a place centrally located for Pennsylvania beekeepers. Special meetings shall be called by the officers, or the secretary upon the written request of five members.
- ARTICLE VI This Constitution may be amended by a vote of two-thirds of all members present at any business meeting, of which thirty days notice shall be given in writing, or through the official organ of the Association, THE PENNSYLVANIA BEEKEEPER.

BY - LAWS

- ARTICLE 1 The various classes of membership in the Association and the requirements are as follows:
- Section I
- Senior: Any beekeeper or anyone interested in beekeeping over 17 years of age may become a senior member. This membership shall convey all privileges and rights to voting and holding office.
- Family: Any beekeeping family or any family interested in beekeeping may become members. This membership shall convey all privileges and rights to voting and holding office. Members must be over the age of 18 to vote and hold office. The dues are to be $5.00 more than Senior membership.
- Lifetime: Lifetime member's dues will be ten times the Senior dues. Lifetime members shall convey all privileges and rights to voting and holding office.
- Junior: Any beekeeper or anyone interested in beekeeping who has not yet passed his eighteenth birthday may become a Junior member. Junior members are entitled to all the privileges of membership except the right to vote or hold office.
- Life Member: Life membership may be awarded by the Executive Committee to a member for faithful service over a period of at least five years and/or meritorious service to the Association. Life members shall have all the privileges of membership including the right to vote and hold office. Not more than one Life Membership may be awarded in any one year.
- Honorary: Honorary memberships may be awarded by the Executive Committee to persons whose achievements warrant special recognition as an authority in the field of apiculture. Nominations for Honorary memberships may be made by any member, and must be in writing to the Secretary of the Executive Committee. Election to Honorary membership is thereupon conducted by written ballot and awarded by two-thirds approval of the entire Executive Committee. Honorary memberships have all the privileges of membership except the right to vote and hold office. Not more than one Honorary membership shall be given in any two years.

Section 2: The annual dues for membership shall be set at each annual business meeting.
LIFE AND HONORARY memberships are dues exempt.

Dues are payable to the Treasurer on or before month of Anniversary date. Members in arrears 30 days shall be given special notice, and if in arrears thirty days after a special notice, shall be dropped from membership.
